

Karlsruhe celebrates its 300th anniversary...

Karlsruhe turns 300 in 2015! To celebrate this special occasion, the city will host a 15-week summer festival from June 17th, the day the first stone of the palace's foundation was laid, until September 24th, the day Karlsruhe created its city charter. As the birthplace and iconic center of the fan-shaped city, the Karlsruhe Palace will play a central role in the festivities.

The festival program is packed tight with one highlight after the other. On June 20th, a grand opening ceremony in front of the palace will present the myth surrounding the foundation of Karlsruhe and its rise to a center of culture, science, and technology unlike ever before. To the delight of locals and visitors alike, a specially built pavilion in the palace park will be the heart of the summer festival and serve as a stage for over 400 events. From concerts, cabaret, and theatrical performances to film screenings, lectures, and workshops, there is sure to be something to suit every interest and taste.

Every evening from dusk until midnight, the palace façade will be bathed in alternating light and video projections to create a fascinating combination of historical architecture and modern media art. Particular mention must also go to the numerous special exhibitions taking place in Karlsruhe during this time. Art and culture enthusiasts shouldn't miss it! Special cultural highlights in 2015 include the GLOBALE in the ZKM | Center for Art and Media, both Large State Exhibitions in the Staatliche Kunsthalle Karlsruhe and Baden State Museum Karlsruhe, and the "Friedrich Weinbrenner" exhibition in the Städtische Galerie Karlsruhe.

Baden State Museum Karlsruhe

Karl Wilhelm 1679 – 1738

Large State Exhibition of Baden-Württemberg

Baden State Museum Karlsruhe / Karlsruhe Palace

May 9 – November 8, 2015

Baden Prince and City Founder of Karlsruhe

Karl Wilhelm, Margrave of Baden-Durlach, made his ambitious dream a reality at the young age of 36; on June 17, 1715, the young prince ceremoniously laid the first stone of his new palace and, in the same year, founded the city that still carries his name today: Karlsruhe. In honor of the city's 300-year anniversary, this very same palace – and heart of the fan-shaped city – will host the Large State Exhibition 2015, which is dedicated for the very first time to the fascinating personality of the city founder.

Karl Wilhelm was a strong believer of absolutism. His contemporaries described him as strong-willed, inquisitive, despotic, and vain. However, they also knew him as a pragmatic, socially engaged economist and courageous war officer. The Karlsruhe Palace and its grounds are remnants of the splendor of former days and unique in the entire world.

The Large State Exhibition "Karl Wilhelm 1679 – 1738" presents a fascinating portrait of this enigmatic personality through first-class exhibits, some of which are being made accessible to the public for the first time.

Staatliche Kunsthalle Karlsruhe

The Master Collector Karoline Luise von Baden

Large State Exhibition of Baden-Württemberg

Staatliche Kunsthalle Karlsruhe

May 30 – September 6, 2015

It was a woman who played the most important role in the history of the Baden margrave’s art collection: Karoline Luise von Baden (1723-1783). The Staatliche Kunsthalle Karlsruhe has dedicated a Large State Exhibition to this passionate art collector from May 30 – September 6, 2015 to accompany Karlsruhe’s 300-year anniversary.

Karoline’s Mahlerey-Cabinets, which once encompassed 200 paintings and now remain mostly intact in the Kunsthalle, are the center of the exhibition. These cabinets are a collection of Dutch masterpieces from the 17th century, as well as important French paintings from the 18th century, and include works from Rembrandt Harmenszoon van Rijn, David Teniers, and Jean Siméon Chardin.

The sophisticated and well-educated Karoline Luise cultivated contacts with numerous European correspondents, kept herself well-informed, and bargained skillfully an international art market that was characterized by sensational auctions, just as it is now. Also a painter, she developed into a respected connoisseur and, in the end, a true “Master Collector”.

Currently spread out between Karlsruhe and international museums, the works comprising the former Mahlerey-Cabinets will be brought back together for the first time for the Large State Exhibition 2015.

Städtische Galerie

Friedrich Weinbrenner
Classical Architecture and City Planning
Städtische Galerie Karlsruhe

June 27 – October 4, 2015

In celebration of Karlsruhe's 300th anniversary, the saai and Städtische Galerie Karlsruhe will present an extraordinary and fascinating exhibition dedicated to the life works of Friedrich Weinbrenner (1766–1826). This famous classical master architect and city planner shaped the face of Karlsruhe unlike any other. His name was closely tied to the fan-shaped city from the very beginning: he was born here, the son of a carpenter, in 1766. After years of studying and traveling in Germany and abroad, he returned to Karlsruhe in 1800, where he was able to spend a quarter century developing his outstanding city planning and building skills.

This comprehensive, monographic anniversary exhibition of Weinbrenner's works is the first of its kind since 1977 and by far surpasses the scope of the almost 40-year-old predecessor. Exhibits include original drawings from the saai and collections in Germany and the USA, as well as historic and current photographs, newly finished models, and complex computer visualizations that make even unfinished drafts and dream projects visible.
